Dear Family,

Ask your child to write the spelling words correctly on the blank lines.

Good spelling is necessary for effective writing. From the very first unit of Zaner-Bloser's Spelling Connections, your child will be encouraged to write his or her thoughts, ideas, and feelings, using the spelling skills learned in previous grade levels in combination with the structured writing skills introduced in the third grade.

The Home Spelling Practice pages suggest activities that you and your child can do together and that will help your child learn spelling and writing skills.
