

Complete Subjects and Complete Predicates

Decide whether the underlined part of each sentence is a complete subject, a complete predicate, both, or neither. Mark your answer on the answer sheet.

1. Scientists have found over one million species of insects.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
2. New species are still being discovered.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
3. Beetles are the largest group of insects.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
4. There are many sizes of beetles.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
5. Insects can be found in almost all parts of Earth.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
6. Some species live in or near the ocean.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
7. Live in the ground.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
8. There are different species of insects all over the world.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
9. A locust in Africa is a bit different from a locust in the United States.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
10. Entomology is the study of insects.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
11. There are approximately one hundred types of poisonous plants.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
12. Poison ivy is a poisonous plant.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
13. The oil of the poison ivy plant causes a reaction on human skin.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
14. The poison ivy plant displays its leaves in groups of three.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
15. Flowers and fruit grow on this plant.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
16. This plant's fruit is a meal for birds.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
17. Another poisonous plant is poison oak.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
18. Poison oak is very similar to poison ivy.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
19. Both can be found in wooded areas.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither
20. Hikers should watch out for these plants.
A complete subject C both
B complete predicate D neither