

Compound Subjects and Compound Predicates

Decide whether the underlined words in each sentence are a compound subject, compound predicate, both, or neither. Mark your answer on the answer sheet.

1. Several explorers and scientists wanted to reach the continent of Antarctica.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
2. Severe weather and dangerous travel conditions kept them away for years.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
3. A few different countries attempted but failed to reach the continent.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
4. England and Norway had sent parties to Antarctica.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
5. Roald Amundsen was a Norwegian explorer and scientist.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
6. Robert Falcon Scott sailed and explored for England.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
7. Both Scott and Amundsen reached and explored Antarctica.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
8. Their next challenge was to find the South Pole.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
9. Amundsen and Scott had planned journeys to the South Pole.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
10. But no one had been able to reach Antarctica until December of 1911.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
11. Admundsen and Scott both traveled and searched for the South Pole.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
12. Amundsen reached the South Pole and raised his flag.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
13. After a difficult journey, Scott and his crew reached the South Pole.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
14. They found Amundsen's flag and realized they weren't first.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
15. Today, the official South Pole station is called Amundsen-Scott Base.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
16. The station was built in the late 1970s and looks like a big dome.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
17. The United States is in charge of the Amundsen-Scott Base.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither
18. There are other permanent bases on the continent of Antarctica.
A compound subject C both
B compound predicate D neither